Bill Harrelson, counsel to MCI, Inc., also participated in the meeting with Karen Miller. The Company's representatives explained that there is not immediately-available alternative to UNE-P in California as SBC refuses to negotiate a commercial agreement with the Company that would include Flex ANI, which the Company requires in order to serve payphone customers. The Company's representatives noted that with a true-up looming in the near future, the Company has been advised by its investors that funding cannot be made available to the Company for investment in any facilities to serve the California market. The Company urged the Commission to order incumbent local exchange carriers to continue providing UNE-P and other UNEs until the Commission has taken a full opportunity to assess the impacts of the discontinuation of UNEs on competitive service options, particularly in light of the proposed acquisition of AT&T and MCI.

Schavrien demonstrated that the SAIDI benchmark adopted in the ALJ's proposed decision and the alternate does not appropriately reflect the impact of the drought years in 2000 and 2001. Lorenz and Schavrien stated that the benchmark recommended by CCUE of 69 minutes would be more reflective of the progress made by SDG&E.
